Shrewsbury High School

Shrewsbury, Massachusetts

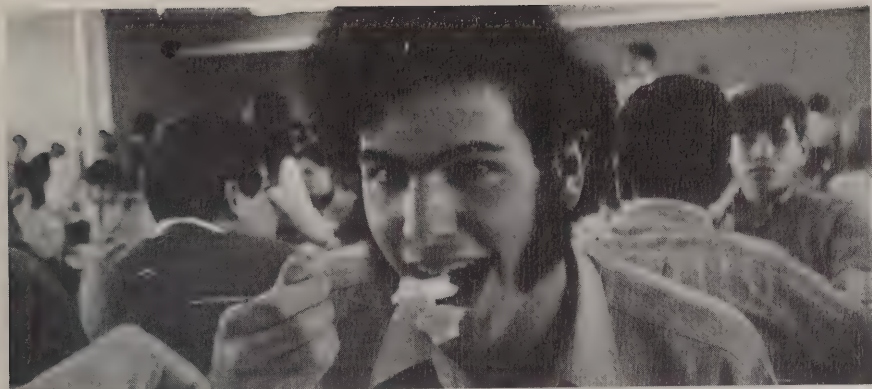

1970...

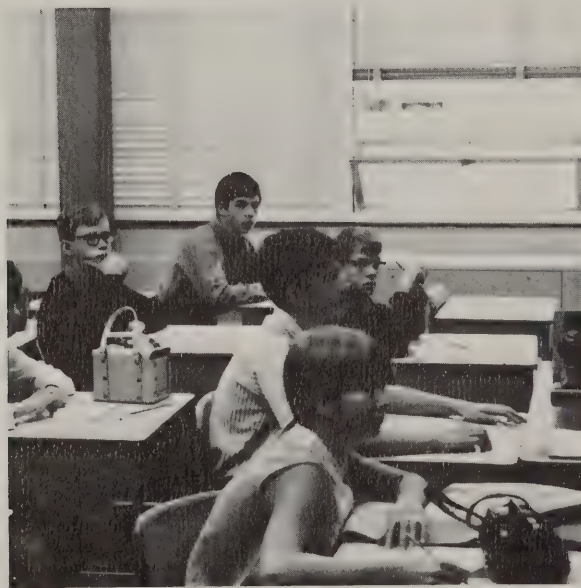

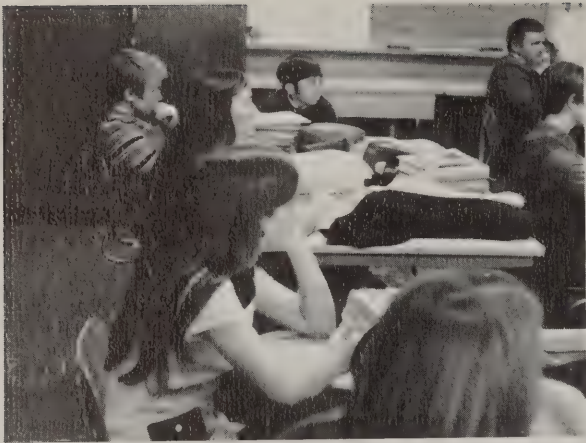

Well, we finally made it.

We had good times, didn't we?

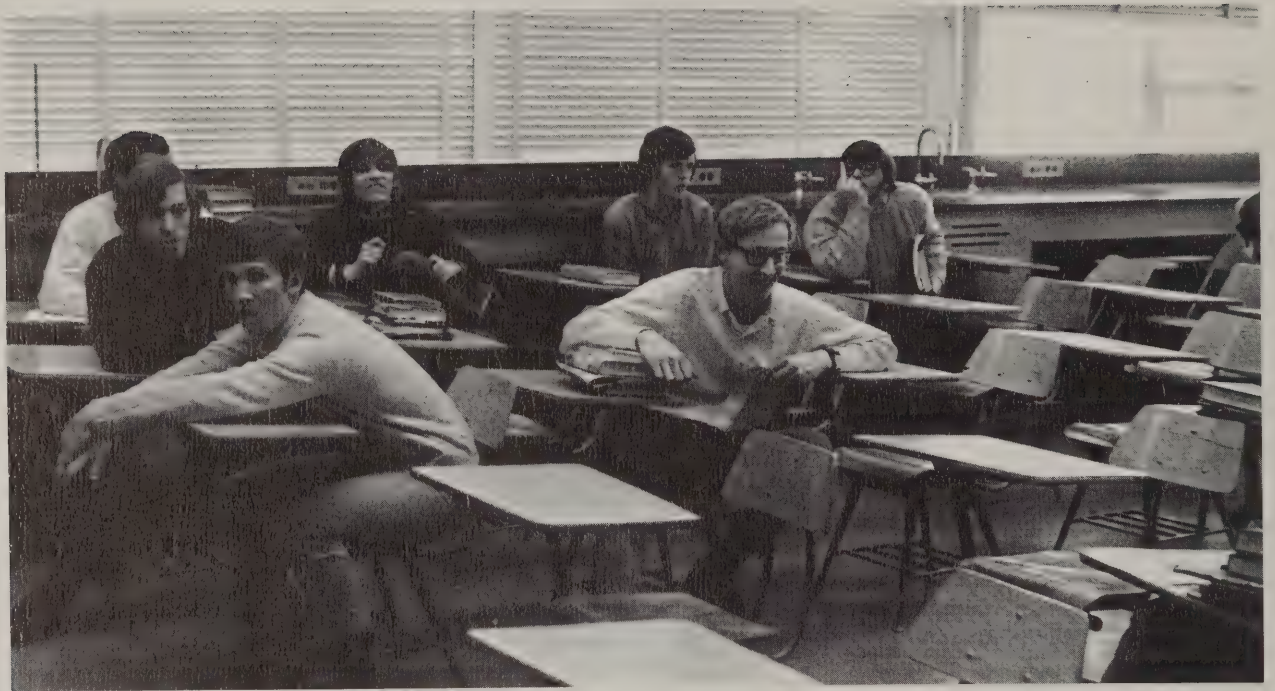

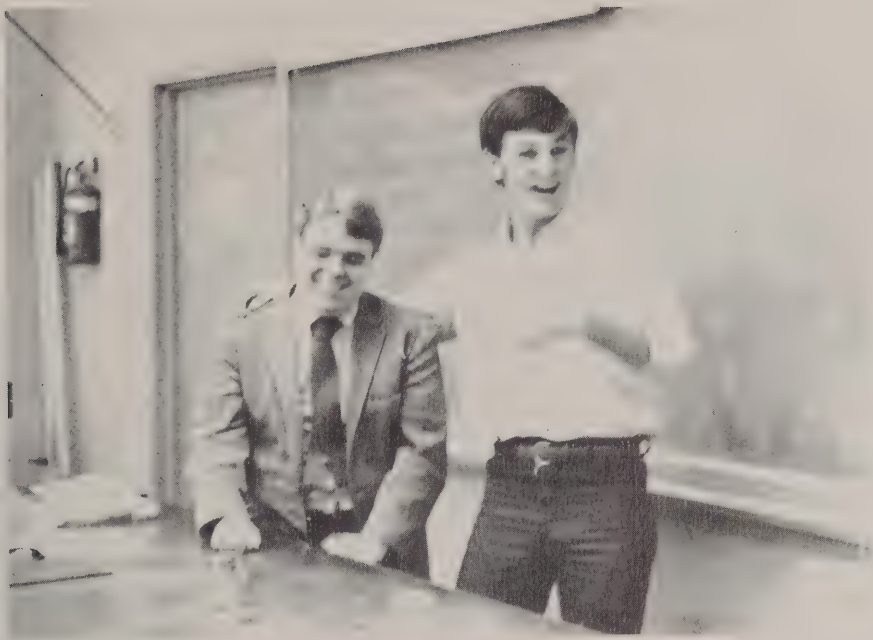

Exciting times.

One thing you can say . . .

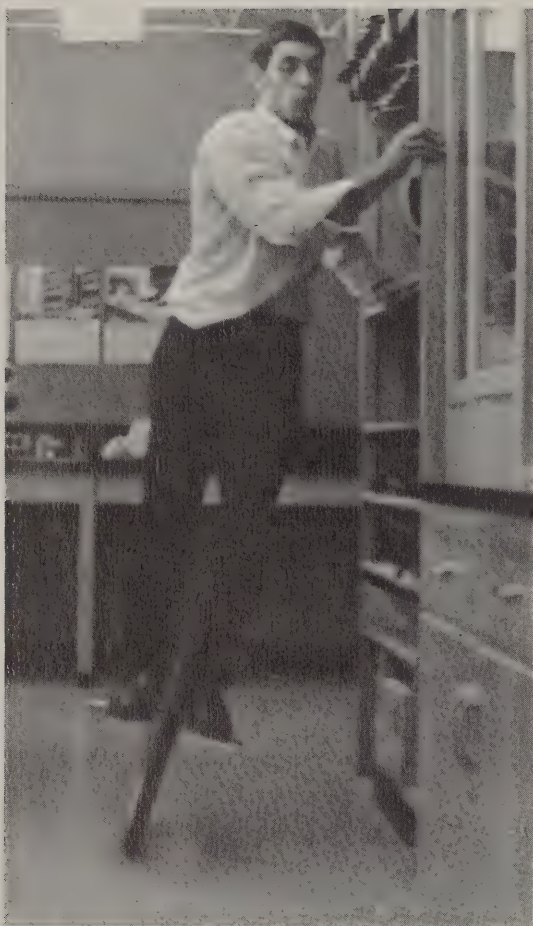

We've left our mark.

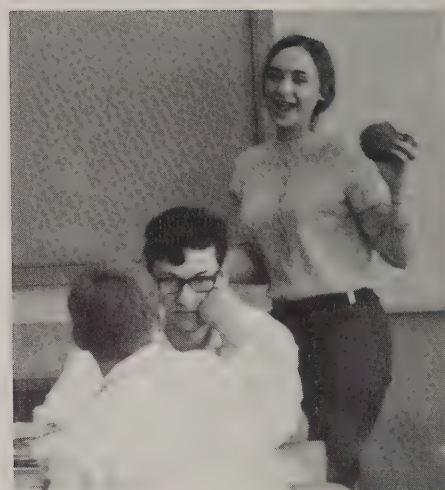

We're 273 individuals.

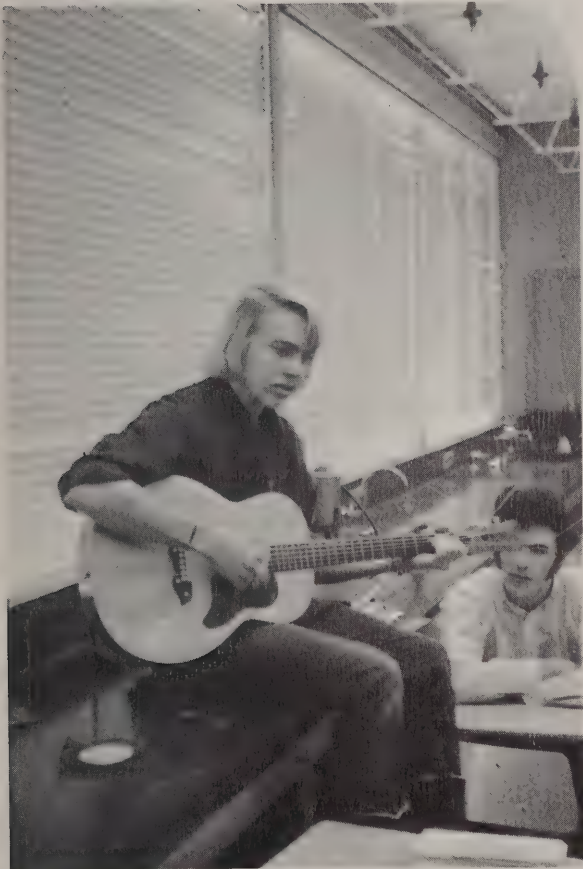

To the underclassmen, we say . . .

YEARBOOK DESK

Remember us.

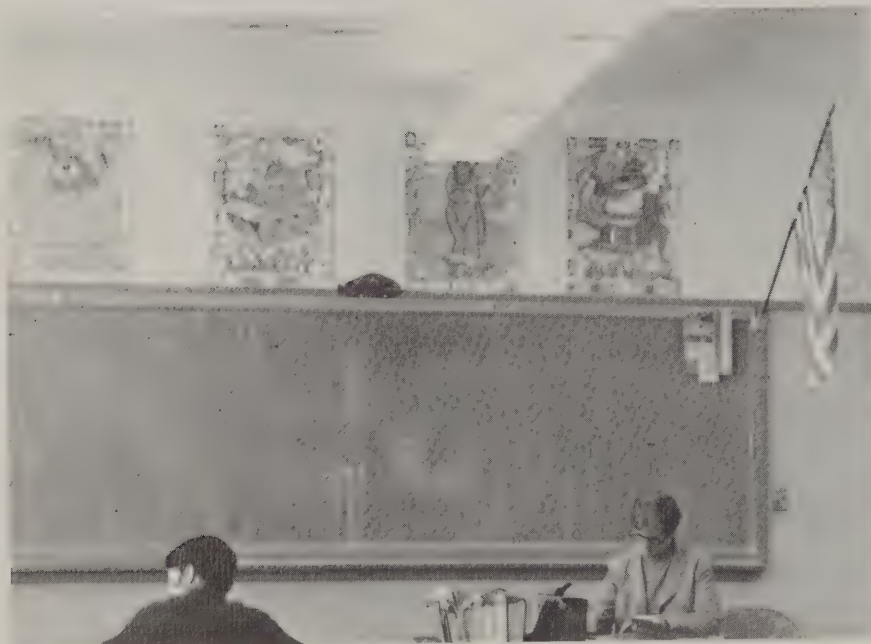

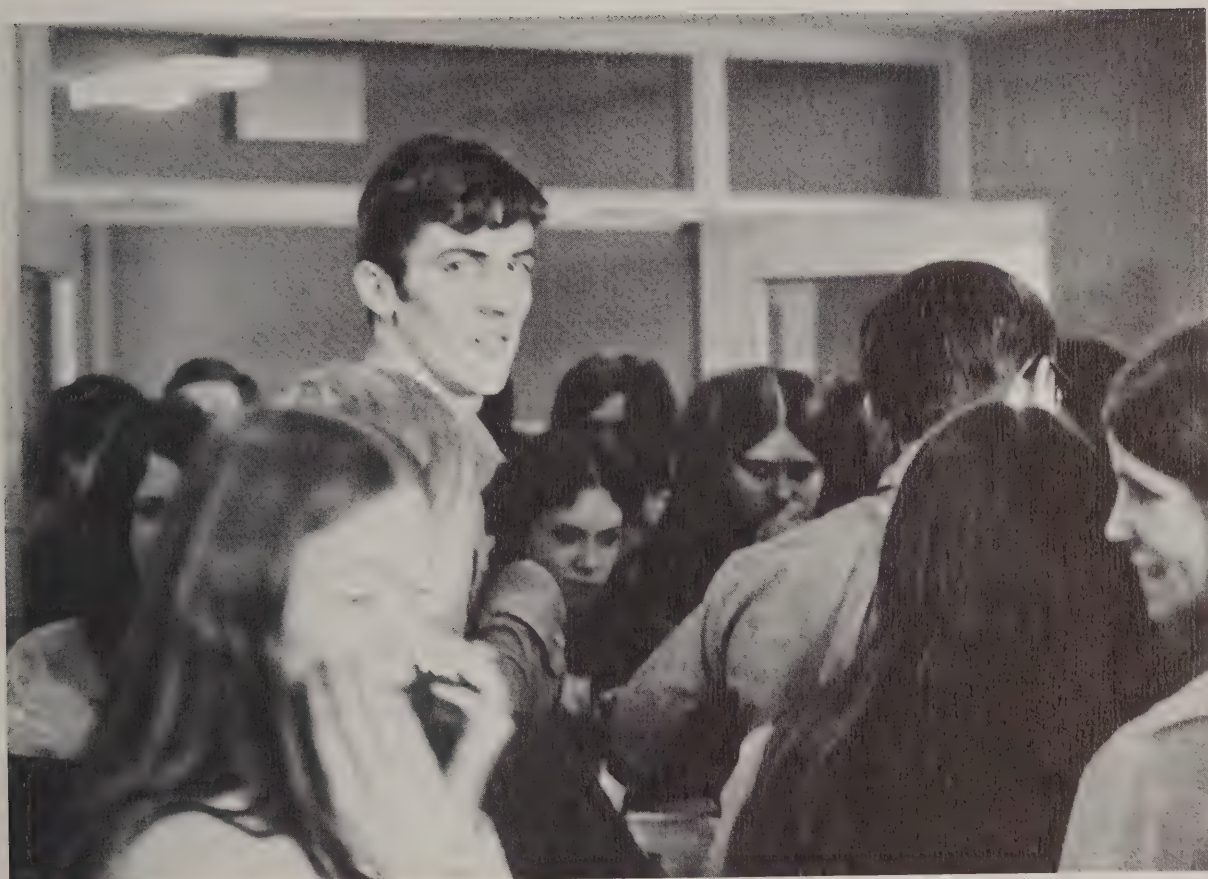

To each other, we say . . .

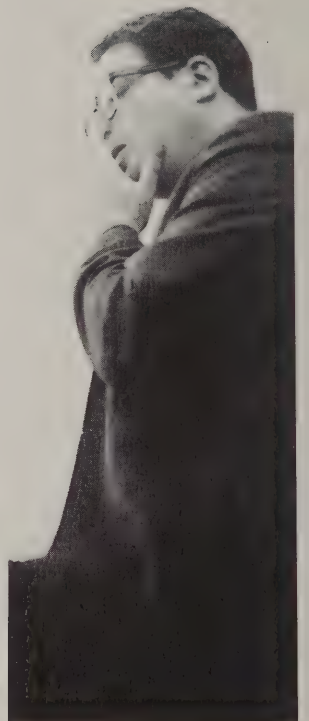

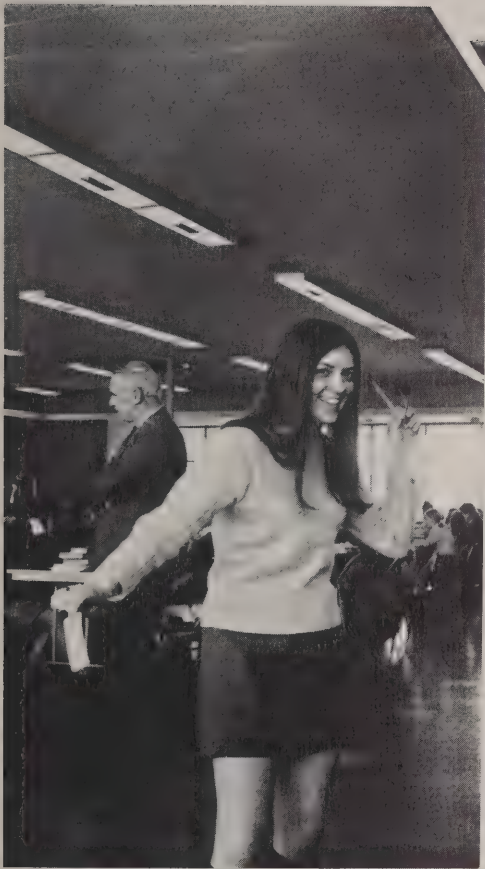

Go well . . .

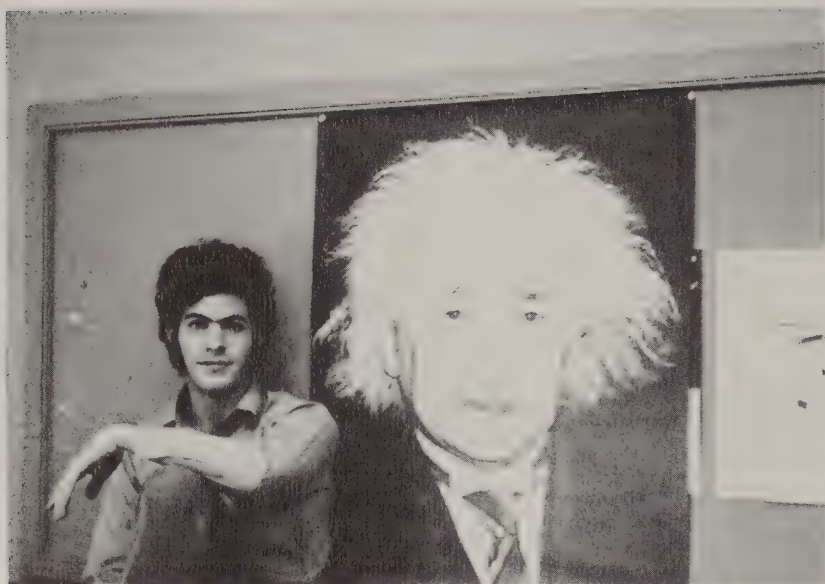

And always remember . . .

As someone once said . . .

The Staff and Advisor of the 1970 COLONIAL gratefully acknowledge the constant assistance of Mr. James Cantwell of the English Department

A leader: one who opens a way for others, A leader is a person who can be admired, respected, and followed. The man to whom we have dedicated our 1970 COLONIAL has been the main reason why our high school has grown so well. He is a person who made significant changes, bettered the existing conditions and who has created and helped to perpetuate many fine traditions of our school.

After almost fifty years of service, he is closing out his successful administration of Shrewsbury High School and a noteworthy tenure as our Principal. Throughout these many years, Mr. Cooke has been the active, efficient leader in all our happenings. He has guided both the student body and the faculty to a reputation of excellence in every area of our school life. He is a man who has been firm yet understanding; extremely busy yet concerned and always available, a man dedicated to the high ideals of education. He has been a real person and Principal in every sense of these words.

It is with much pride and deep gratitude that the Class of 1970 dedicates the 1970 COLONIAL to our Principal, Mr. James A. Cooke.

Principal James A. Cooke

Mr. William C. Donovan
Vice Principal

Mr. John W. Jacobs
Assistant Principal

Mr. Theodore P. Lekas

When schools re-open in September, 1970, Shrewsbury High School will be under the direction of a new principal. Mr. Lekas was chosen to become the First Assistant to Mr. Cooke on March 2, 1970 and to assume the Principalship on July 1, 1970, upon Mr. Cooke's retirement. The Class of 1970 bids fond farewells to Mr. Cooke and extends best wishes to Mr. Lekas for an auspicious and happy career. Because of his admirable qualities of understanding, efficiency and warmth, Mr. Lekas will surely perpetuate the excellence for which Shrewsbury has been known under Mr. Cooke's guidance.

Faculty

English Department

To form a more aware generation of young people in a changing society, an excellent communications system is needed. Under the guidance of Department Director Mr. Allan Smallidge, Shrewsbury students are taught to be more proficient both literally and verbally.

Language Department

Miss Helen M. Parks
Department Head

Years ago, a course in a foreign language would have been wasted on a student, for that person would never have a chance to apply his knowledge of the subject. Now, such a course is invaluable. Through excellent all-round instruction, each student is able to become proficient in whatever tongue he chooses.

Physical Education Department

Good sportsmanship is the most important feature of our physical education program at Shrewsbury High School. Through work on the apparatus and at various sports and games, the gym teachers try to instill this all-important quality in every student.

Miss Phyllis D. Hall

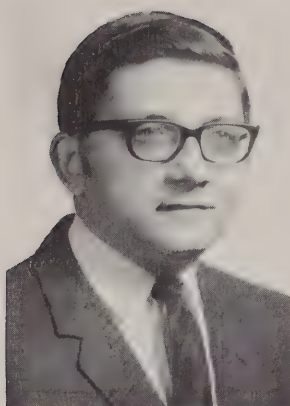

Mr. Mario Marchisio

Mr. Joseph Montecalvo

Mr. Louis J. Vella
Department Head

Mr. Jack E. Feldheimer

Mr. Ralph A. Metcalf

Music Department

One of Shrewsbury's most admirable features is its music department. Under excellent supervision, the department not only instructs its students in music appreciation, but it also offers them the chance to participate in concerts, assemblies, and other special activities.

Mr. L. Lyman Bowker
Department Head

Mrs. Janice Corazzini

Mr. Joseph E. Deignan

Art Department

Creativity and self-expression are the two goals of the Shrewsbury High School Art Department. Under the direction of our talented art instructors, students learn to fulfill their artistic talents. Painting, sculpturing, and the other creative arts are the emphasized features of the department.

Industrial Arts Department

Mr. Clifford H. Fountaine
Department Head

Putting one's talents and skills to practical use is the lesson learned in our industrial arts departments. Through such courses as wood-working, sheet metalling, electronics, and drafting, each student learns how to perfect his own special talent.

Mr. Leo F. Mullin, Jr.

Mr. Peter P. Olson

Mr. Richard L. Perreault

Mr. Francis C. Rawson

Home Economics Department

Not only courses in the operation of the home, but instructions on finances and all other aspects of home life are emphasized in the home economics course at Shrewsbury. Modern facilities, new equipment, and introductions to up-to-date techniques all help to mold the efficient housewife of tomorrow.

Miss Alice Hanley
Department Head

Mrs. Phyllis J. King

Mrs. Joann McCullough

Guidance Department

Guidance is something that is much needed by every high school student. The decision on what vocation one is to follow after graduation or what school to attend is undoubtedly one of the biggest a person will ever have to make. Through the understanding and wise counselling of the Shrewsbury guidance counsellors, it has been easier and more effective decisions have been made.

Seniors exercise their right to vote.

To give the students a voice in school policy, the Student Council was created. This year, more than ever before, that voice was heard. A dynamic change took place here at Shrewsbury. The council, headed by Donna Largess, worked co-operatively with the administration and by this mutual effort, succeeded in attaining the abolition of the dress code. French Club Advisors.

"Are you sure that's what you want to sav?"

"Let's have a tete-a-tete talk in the corner."

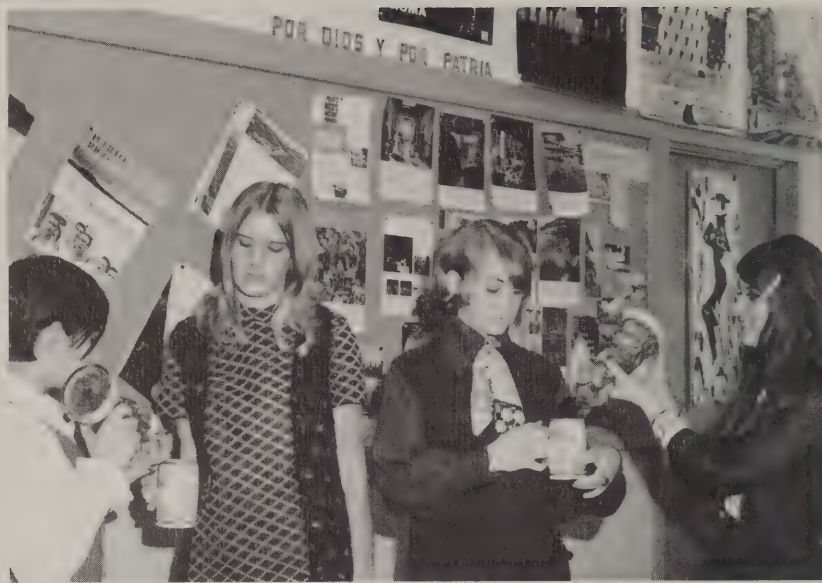

Ma belle amie.

The French Club, designed to give serious students of French an opportunity to speak the language frequently in every-day situations, is one of the school's largest organizations. Under the direction of President Laurie Dombrowski, the French Club has accomplished great things this year. Members travelled to Montreal, Canada for a three-day experience that really put their linguistic skills to the test. However, at the end of the year, all the members joined in one cry, "Vive la France!"

"Do you understand what she's saying?"

This is the life! Drinking tequilla all day and sleeping for the next two.

Miss Howard continues her search for Don Quixote.

Members celebrate Christmas in the traditional Spanish manner.

Could this coy senorita be hiding something behind her fan?

Putting to practical advantage what is used in the classroom is the purpose of Shrewsbury's Spanish Club. Its members have the opportunity to participate in games, skits, and other activities which help increase their proficiency in Spanish. The Spanish Club: achievement, pleasure, and ambition combined.

Our Halftime

The color guard prepares another drill.

This year some very attractive features were added to the band. For the first time in its history, six vivacious majorettes led the Colonial musicians to triumphant heights. Under the direction of Barbara Reese, the girls worked out eye-catching routines to please the crowds. Head majorette Diane Ton expertly led the well-precisioned group.

Another lively group was the colorguard. Captain Gemma Galli directed the members of the squad in intricate and well-executed routines.

Surely the added charm of both the majorettes and the colorguard aided the Colonial's in their victorious season.

At every home football game the sharp, brassy tones of the Shrewsbury High School Band were heard adding to the Half-time excitement. Under the direction of Mr. Louis Vella, the band serenaded the crowd with Broadway show tunes, television themes, and popular songs.

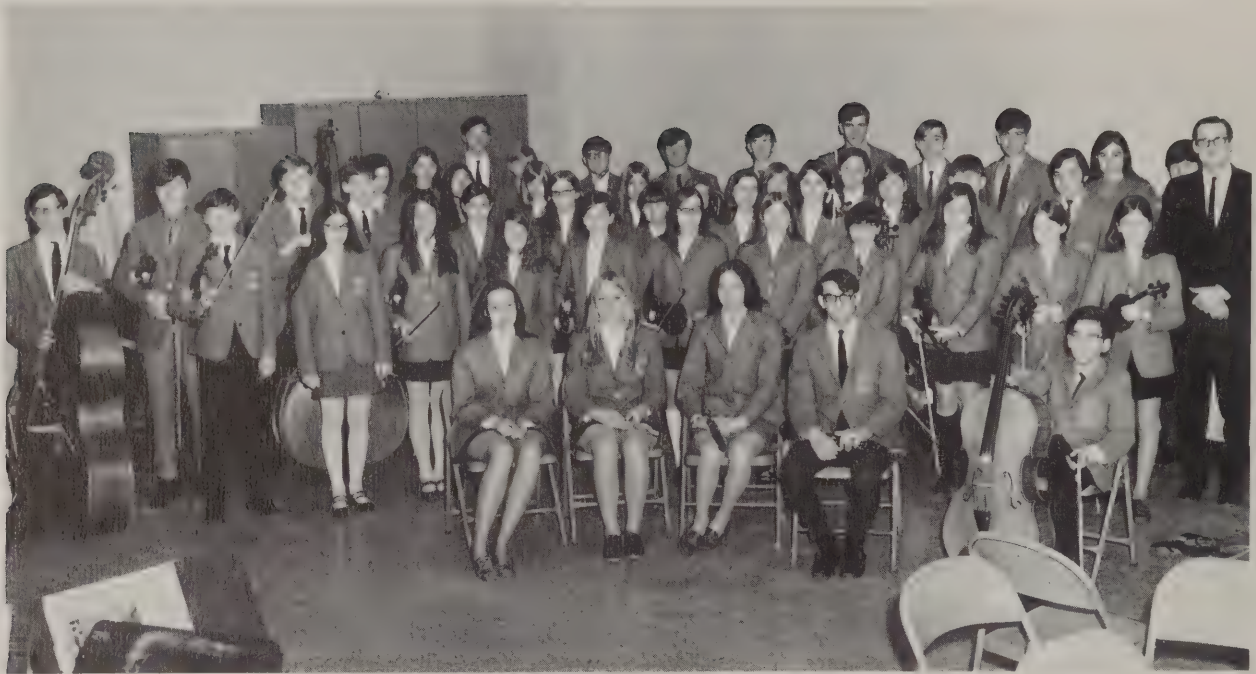

Besides lending support to the SHS football team, the band also gave commendable performances at assemblies and special concerts. One of the band's most memorable projects was the accompaniment of the sensational musical, "Oklahoma".

The excellence of the band was not achieved without much hard work and discipline, however. Daily practice and much individual study contributed to the success of the group.

Such a talented and hardworking group of musicians deserve much praise and recognition, for each year the band seems to get bigger and better.

Hoarse throats, dirty knees, and a lot of sore muscles—some people may think that those adjectives sum up the art of cheerleading pretty well. However, eleven girls from Shrewsbury High know better.

Laughing, applauding, suffering and yelling for their team, these eleven girls exhibit the qualities of sportsmanship at all times.

Eleven energetic girls, banded together for just one thing—to lend support to the boys fighting for Shrewsbury's honor.

This year, all the victories, all the defeats, all the good times have meant something more. The four seniors, who had enthusiastically helped the Colonials for all their high school years were leaving. Sad? Of course. But disappointed? Never. From the unbearable heat of August to the bitter cold of November, the Colonial football team practices. Calisthenics, sweat; hit the dummies; sweat, windsprints, more sweat. People think that to play football you have to be some sort of animal. Not at Shrewsbury. We play football because we love it; we have pride. Pride is the one word in Colonial football—pride in yourself and pride in the school.

With a defensive line weighing an average of 200 pounds and with a quick, speedy offense to match, Shrewsbury ran over opponent after opponent, while compiling a fine 6 win, 2 loss, and 1 tie slate.

Ted Stimets Award

The Ted Stimets Award is given annually to the outstanding football player in the Thanksgiving game against Auburn. This year's winner is Bob Gremo who, as an offensive halfback and defensive end, combined speed and good football knowledge to his maximum potential. For Bob Gremo, however, every game was outstanding. From the first to the last, he was the one individual the opposition couldn't stop and the one individual who sparked the team. Congratulations, Bob Gremo.

Bob Zona

In football, few people realize the importance of a defensive back, the one individual who is the backbone of the team. Bob Zona is a defensive back and the backbone of the defense. Having played varsity since his sophomore year, he proves size has nothing to do with the ability of a football player.

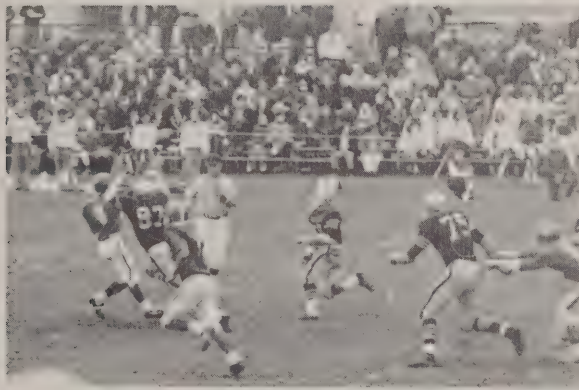

Aside from being an outstanding football player, Bob is an outstanding co-captain. Teaming with Pat Vuona, this pair provided the best leadership in Shrewsbury history.

Pat Collins puts on a burst of speed to outrun several Milford defenders.

Pat Tamburro (87) and Garry Jordan (60) chase Algonquin fullback Paul Taylor.

Pat Tamburro, Bob Gremo, and Gene Pease put on tremendous rush on Hudson quarterback.

At 5' 5" and 130 pounds, most people are spectators. Not Pat Vuona. What he lacks in size, he more than doubles in guts. Pat combines the speed and skill to provide Shrewsbury fans with its most electrifying runner in years.

Pat Vuona is also co-captain. He has the quality of leadership that everyone looks up to. Pat Vuona—captain and leader.

The Shrewsbury High Colonials this year had a fine season with a team effort. Combining the high-scoring front court of Bob Zona, Tom Daviau, and Ed Orrizzi, combined with the defensive-minded back court of Jack Hurst and Ron Simonian, the Colonials tied for first place in the Midland League.

Although suffering its first loss in the Midland League in over three years, the Colonials nevertheless proved to be real champions by beating Clinton after an early season loss to the Gaels, and finished the season with a respectable record of 17 wins and 2 losses.

Hustle, Pride, and Spirit . . . these three words typify baseball at Shrewsbury High. Under the coaching of Mike Kleminich, Shrewsbury is consistently the best team in the area.

From early April to early June, each individual works at 200% efficiency, never quitting; always hustling. Shrewsbury teams are known for their pride; baseball is no exception. Never can a head be found hanging after a loss; and nothing but praise can be heard for the opposing team. The last important factor in Shrewsbury baseball is team spirit, all as a team, and no individuals. Hustle, Pride, and Spirit—Colonial baseball.

Probably the least publicized of all sports is track. In the spring, all trackmen practice to perfection their events with dedication and pride. Track is also different from other sports in that every member is for himself and for the school. Shrewsbury has many outstanding individuals—Steve Brown, Rich Doda, Bob Gremo, Gene Pease, Paul Sireci, Pat Collins, and others who constantly bring victory to our school.

Spirit has always been high during track season, but this will especially be true this year with the return of many veterans. Under the capable leadership of Coach Arthur Liljegren, Shrewsbury looks forward to a fine season.

This year marks the end of Mrs. Caron's reign as coach of Shrewsbury's field hockey team. During her five coaching years, she commanded five tunic clad squads. They crusaded on hockey fields throughout the country hoping to attain a victory for Shrewsbury High. Although the record does not show it, this year's team was the most unified and skillful Mrs. Caron has ever produced. They fought valiantly to gain what often seemed unattainable—victory. But, win or lose, these girls remained undefeated in spirit.

Next year a new director will fill the position Mrs. Caron has vacated. Hopefully she will initiate new regulations in place of some old ones; for, any system has its faults. But, over-all, the strengths outweighed the weaknesses in the present system. The members of her teams would like to thank Coach Caron for her dedication to them and the sport of field hockey.

Captain Simone
on the hustle.

Shrewsbury's girls' basketball team adapted well to the changes in their game. In place of the old restrictive rules, the league decided to change the game to a five on five set up, similar to that played by boys.

Although a short team, Shrewsbury was able to win 8 of its 12 regular season games, mainly by outrunning their opponents. The fast break was started by the small but quick guards, Skib Schiavone and Helen Dahrooge. Once at our own basket our forwards, high scorer Paula Rourke, Debbie McNamara, and Pat Card took over. Rebound power was supplied by two scrappers—Cathy Sireci and our captain, Lynda Simone. Very important in all games was the bench—next year's starters.

After tying for second place in their league, Coach Judy Webster advanced her team to the Sutton Tournament—the first Shrewsbury team to enter in eleven years. Although the girls bowed to Notre Dame 29-22, they represented their school well. We hope a precedent has been set for future Shrewsbury teams.

The teams would like to thank coaches Judy Webster and Cathy Pelletier for a fine year.

"If I stand here long enough, maybe I'll get the ball!"

"A Dream Itself Is

But A Shadow"

The glitter and fascination of the adult world tiptoed in on us on May 23, 1969 as we held our junior prom in the magically transformed SHS gym.

"A Dream Itself Is But A Shadow" was a beautiful experience for everyone. After feverishly working to make the prom all it could be, we settled back to enjoy the pastel shades of the decorations and to dance to the excellent music of Bob Nelson and his orchestra.

As the evening progressed, Chris Melanson was crowned queen and radiantly reigned in the flowery wonderland. Members of her court, all shining with happiness, were Liz Bergstrom, Barbara Reese, Linda Robinson, and Roseann Russell.

Finally, the evening drew to a close, but the wonderful memories of our junior prom will linger with us always.

The three Captains.

To celebrate a winning season, the 1970 year-book sponsored the annual harvest victory dance to honor its football heroes. The dance was held on November 28, 1969 in the SHS cafeteria.

Couples danced to the vibrant soul sound of the Boss Tweed beneath shimmering gold and blue streamers. Captains Pat Vuona and Bob Zona and sparkling cheering captain Donna Largess cut the victory cake, and speeches were made to honor the deserving Colonials.

As the evening drew to a close, beautiful Maria D'Errico was crowned queen. Her radiant court included Ellen Kokernak, Maribeth Layden, Sally Mulcahy, and Joan Richards. They reigned in splendor until the end of "Autumn's Fading Hours."
